1. Decent financial results

Revenues and EBITDA in line with FY guidance

Despite lower results YoY, FY guidance remains achievable with Q1 on track

1. Decent financial results

EBITDA like for like: in Q1 around 25% of FY decline

in CHF mm	Q1/2012	Q1/2013	YoY	2012	2013 Guidance	YoY
Reported EBITDA	1,098	1,031	-67	4,477	> 4,25 bln	<-0.23 bln

EBITDA on a comparable basis	1,107	1,079	-28	4,4 bln	> 4,3 bln	<-0.1 bln

% of FY decline in Q1

~ 28%

On a comparable basis, EBITDA 2013 will be less than CHF 100 mm below last year
Key drivers are higher SACs and handset cost in 2013, as well as higher indirect cost for maintenance related to network rollout

1. Decent financial results

FY guidance unchanged

CHF bln	2012 A	2013 E*)	Splits into:
Revenues	11.384	~11.3	CHF 9.34 bln for Swisscom w/o Fastweb + € 1.6 bln for Fastweb (constant yoy without hubbing)
EBITDA	4.477 restated)	>4.25	CHF 3.64 bln for Swisscom w/o Fastweb + € 0.5 bln for Fastweb (constant yoy)
CAPEX (without spectrum)	2.169	~2.4	CHF 1.75 bln for Swisscom w/o Fastweb + € 0.55 bln for Fastweb

EBITDA comparison 2013 with 2012 impacted by:

1. CHF 110 mm extra pension cost (non-cash) caused by plan amendments and higher ordinary pension cost
- ) 2. 2012 was restated for CHF 96 mm of changes in IFRS19 on pension accounting (see attachment)
3. Continued customer and volumes growth leading to higher direct costs for Subscriber Acquisition and handsets in 2013
4. Higher indirect cost 2013 due to maintenance cost related to network rollout

CAPEX 2013:

1. CHF 0.1 bln higher at Swisscom w/o Fastweb, partly to catch up with the CHF 50 million lower than expected investments in 2012
2. € 0.1 bln higher at Fastweb exclusively due to roll out of fibre technology

*) For consolidation purposes, CHF 1.23/€ has been used

1. Decent financial results

Revenue decline from continued price erosion, whereas Q1 also had exceptional seasonal effects

Volume growth can only partially compensate price erosion. One-off seasonal effect due to less GSM and working days (mostly to be caught up during the remainder of the year)

1. Decent financial results

EBITDA dynamics

Additional profitability of rapidly growing bundles not (yet) sufficient to offset rest

1. Decent financial results

Price and volume effects together for Swisscom Switzerland only. Without seasonal impact.

CHF 13mm net total revenue decline YoY with key drivers being the 1P products, not entirely compensated by bundles growth. Including seasonal (volume) effects, the YoY decline would have been CHF 31mm (not including Fastweb and Directories)

1. Decent financial results

Rapidly changing proportion of metered versus non-metered revenues

Proportion of revenues in Swisscom Switzerland from metered traffic back to 29% compared to 48% years ago. Especially replaced by growth in bundles (where fixed monthly fees are charged)

1. Decent financial results

Estimated allocation of revenue changes of wireless versus wireline. Without seasonal impact.

10

CHF 13mm revenue decline YoY with estimated split between mobile and fixed:

- wireless: -10mm YoY (-51 in 1P, and +41 in bundles)
- wireline: -3mm YoY (-57 in 1P, and +54 in bundles)

2. Excellent operational results

Volume dynamics improving: RGUs in Q1 grew by nearly 1% (compared to 0.6% a year ago)

11

Net adds (RGUs, 000)

Quarterly growth
on base (%)

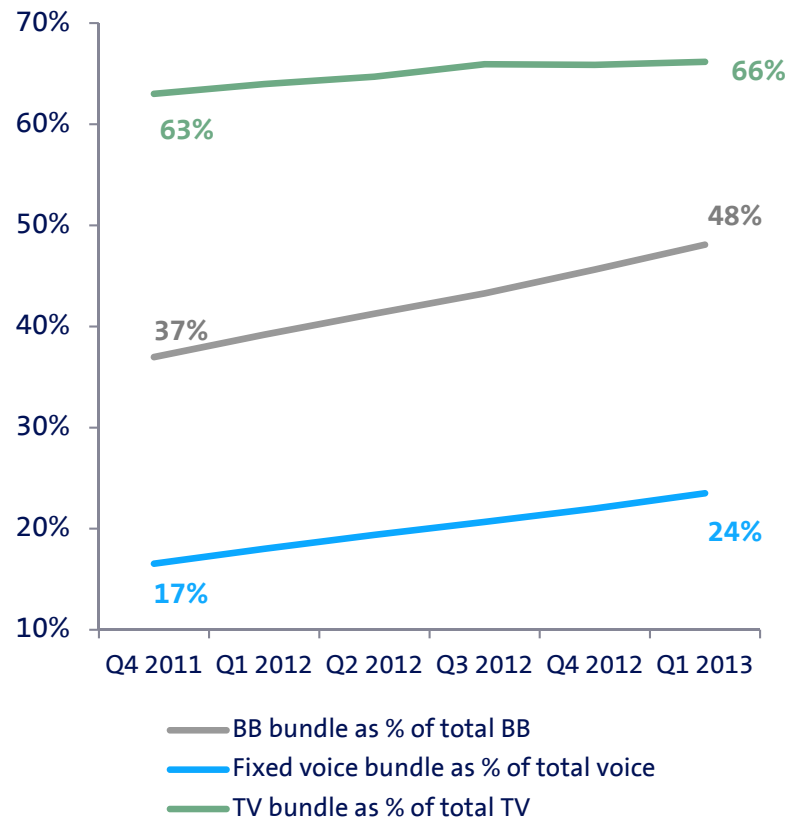

Growth has gone up further in Q4 and Q1. Key drivers both bundles and 1P mobile customers following the introduction of new tariff plans ("Infinity"). Total RGUs now over 11.8 million, up 2.7% YoY.

2. Excellent operational results

Bundle strategy works, with penetration going up constantly while reducing churn.
Lower churn represents a higher customer life time value

12

Bundle penetration

churn

Bundling is valuable, as it brings churn down. TV is most successful, with TV penetration on the broadband customer base being 49% now. This safeguards many broadband customers who otherwise are at a higher risk of being lost to cable competition

2. Excellent operational results

Rollout Infinity (new mobile tariffs) progressing well

13

Infinity customers (000)

Penetration Infinity on postpaid customer base
Residential & SME

Infinity the key reason why growth in mobile subs has gone up in recent quarters

2. Excellent operational results

Rollout Infinity (new mobile tariffs) has stimulated Swisscom's share of net adds

14

Share of net adds vs
share of subscribers

Spread of net adds share
over market share

Infinity has caused the net adds market share to substantially go up. Q1 2013 not yet known, however considering that net adds at Swisscom reached 53k in Q1 2013 (from 64k in Q4 2012 and 33k in Q1 2012), it is likely that the share of net adds was again very high in Q1

2. Excellent operational results

Infinity helped to create a positive balance between in- and outportings

15

Net number of postpaid customers moving to Swisscom from other operators

Infinity stimulated net portings, which is exceptional for a player with 2/3rd market share, as in theory 2 customers should leave while winning back 1.

2. Excellent operational results

Infinity caused ARPU dilution initially. Curve is improving, without XL customers a positive ARPU impact from upselling can be expected from late 2013 onwards.

16

ARPU impact of movers within the given quarter (in CHF/month)

Infinity makes customers using “free” IP Apps an irrelevant business event, as tariff plans are all-you-can-eat anyway

2. Excellent operational results

Good momentum at Fastweb

17

Net adds (000)

Strong growth in net adds, especially driven by successful package with Sky.
Also good growth in (bundled) mobile/MVNO subs

3. Continued investments

To drive mid- and long term market position and profitability

18

Mobile market share
Switzerland, Q4 2012

Share matters in a fixed cost business. Additional investments pay off in terms of the effect it has on over-proportionate FCF contribution

3. Continued investments

Swiss FTTH rollout progressing well

19

Focus in 2013 on pushing adoption by customers: bring up % connected on homes passed by selling more fiber based services (e.g. Vivo Casa 5*)

3. Continued investments

Investing into mobile capacity, spectrum and coverage to stay ahead of competition

20

Biggest spectrum available –until 2028

Mobile Spectrum:

■ Available MHz per million inhabitants

■ Available MHz per 10,000 km2

Rapid LTE rollout, before others have even started

Staying ahead of competition, in capacity, spectrum and coverage.
To secure best market share

In conclusion on the first 3 chapters

Wrap up

21

1. Financially decent

- Despite Q1 below last year (in part driven by seasonality), on track to achieve FY guidance
- Key drivers of revenue and EBITDA reduction are price effects (especially in 1P mobile) and volume effects (esp. in 1P fixed)
- Bundle (volume-driven) growth of revenues can not yet compensate this

2. Operationally excellent

- Volume growth (RGUs) accelerated during Q4 and Q1, esp. in 1P mobile and bundles
- Increased penetration of bundles helps to drive customer life time value
- Infinity tariff plan a key constituent for driving net adds and market share
- Good momentum at Fastweb with record net adds

3. Continued investment

- Higher investments enable to have a superior FCF share (higher than market share)
- Fibre and mobile capex are designed to stay ahead of competition

Even if individual quarters may stay short of expectation, the medium to long term profitability of the company will be driven by its ability to achieve high market shares through a generous investment strategy which keeps it ahead of competitors

At Swisscom Switzerland, 76% of the YOY decrease of CHF 38 mm is driven by seasonal effects.

Increased NWC and lower EBITDA led to lower OpFCF of CHF -238 mm.

5. Segmental results

27

Residential

Top line down due to less GSM days (CHF -8 mm) and other seasonal effects (CHF -11mm directories, to be compensated later in the year).

Higher direct costs explains CM 2 decrease of CHF -38 mm (CHF -9 mm SACs, CHF -8 mm sold handsets).

The success of the Infinity price plans led to a higher # of mobile postpaid subs.

FASTWEB

Volume market (consumer)

- Last year FASTWEB was the only operator with positive net adds in each quarter
- Preliminary 1Q results confirm this leadership, also thanks to Sky HomePack that contributed with 72k net adds

1Q 2013 net adds by operator ('000)

Value market (executive/wholesale)

- Acquisitions in the Private segment were stable vs. 2012: the win rate of corporate negotiations was 54% in 1Q 2013 vs. 57% last year (by value)
- Among newly signed contracts in 1Q were Guardia di Finanza (5.0 MEUR), Azienda Ospedaliera Napoli (1.5 MEUR), Unicredit (1.7 MEUR)
- Order in take on ICT VAS services (20.0 MEUR recurring revenue target in 2013, +122% YoY) was equal to 4.0 MEUR in 1Q, with additional leads for 8.0 MEUR

1Q commercial performance was solid across all market segments

5. Segmental results

33

FASTWEB

Continuously improving commercial performance in the volume market ...

94k net adds vs. 59k in 1Q 2012 (59% YoY growth) indicate that FASTWEB go-to-market strategy is paying off

...is supporting BU consumer revenue increase

BU Consumer revenues are up by 4 MEUR YoY, suggesting that the turnaround is paying off

In the value segment performance remains positive...

BU Enterprise revenues have been impacted by the weakness of the economic cycle in 1Q, and by seasonality with 3 working days less YoY, however the order book is up 7.0 MEUR YoY

EBITDA in line

Excluding seasonality and higher costs related to growth, EBITDA is in line. The effects of cost initiatives increasingly contribute to Opex reduction

Capex is in line with 1Q 2012

Excluding FTTS roll out (14 MEUR), Capex are stable despite 7 MEUR increase due to higher commercial performance (+32k activation YoY)

1Q results were mostly in line with expectations

5. Segmental results

34

FASTWEB

W/o low margin wholesale hubbing and seasonal effects, net revenues are about in line.

EBITDA decrease partly driven by seasonality and higher growth-related costs in 1Q 2013 (e.g. advertising on FTTS services EUR 3mm).

W/o FTTS roll out (EUR 14 mm), CAPEX are stable despite EUR 7 mm increase due to higher commercial performance (+32k activation YoY).

- The organizational changes per 1.1.2013 (as announced on September 14, 2012) cause some costs to move between segments
 - The reporting structure itself remains unchanged
 - A new accounting standard for the measurement and recognition of pension benefits has a significant impact on P&L and the segment results:
 - The pension cost recognized in EBITDA 2012 decrease as a result of plan amendments and will increase in 2013 because of the new accounting rules.
 - The pension costs are split into a personnel cost component and a financial expense component.
 - For the measurement of the segment results the cash contributions are included as cost. The difference between contributions and IFRS pension cost is recognized as reconciling item on group level.
 - Details of the changes are all visible in the facts & figures

Attachm. Restatement of segment results and pension cost

38

- Key changes take place on FTEs and costs. This results in small moves on EBITDA between segments.
- Pension cost: recognition of cash contributions in segment results (EBITDA). Difference between cash contributions and pension cost in accordance with IFRS are recognized as reconciling item on group level
