

Swisscom TV 2.0 now available in all packages

Swisscom is including the TV 2.0 experience, launched in the spring, in all packages by adding the Vivo light, XS and S packages to its Vivo range. Selecting the right package is now even easier for customers: choose a surfing speed, include or exclude unlimited fixed-line telephony and pick the most suitable TV 2.0 offer.

Launched in April this year, Swisscom TV 2.0 has proven popular among customers, with 130,000 opting for the new TV experience within the first five months. Surveys show that the great choice of channels, broad sports and entertainment offering, enhanced options including recording to the cloud and the seven-day Replay function are the most valued features.

Replay and record with Vivo XS

Swisscom TV 2.0 is now available in all packages, including the new Vivo light, XS and S. With the Vivo XS package, customers can enjoy the new Swisscom TV 2.0 basic with catch-up TV on more than 250 channels. All programmes broadcast within the past 30 hours are available to watch at any time, and programmes can be conveniently recorded up to a storage capacity of 30 hours. Customers with a Vivo 2* or 3* package would thus benefit from switching to Vivo XS or S, as they offer more at the same price.

Even more flexibility and opportunities to save money

Customers not interested in catch-up TV can choose to combine their package with the cheaper Swisscom TV 2.0 light, which offers around 85 channels, 40 of which are in HD. Customers using a Vivo package or NATEL infinity also receive a monthly Tutto discount. Fixed-line telephony can but doesn't have to be included.

swisscom

Press release

Related links:

An overview of the new rates can be found here. The new Vivo packages replace the existing Vivo offering and certain individual products. Product overview of the Vivo packages \(in German\)

www.swisscom.ch/vivo

www.swisscom.ch/tv

Berne, 11 September 2014